The Blue River Boys, who placed first in Bluegrass Band competition, was back-up band for Lambert who has been playing the banjo for 35 to 40 years.

Lambert has also won World Championship Banjo picker title at Union Grove, N.C., several times; won State Championship of Virginia last year; and about six years ago was the Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee Tri-State Champion. Lambert and the Blue River Boys have won 20 out of 24 festivals in past years. Each of the boys in the band has at one time or another won first place in individual instruments.

Lambert says he'll be back next year to play again but will not be eligible to compete again for the same title.

Festival Termed Big Success

The first annual National Banjo Festival, sponsored by the Virginia State Music Association, held in Appomattox Memorial weekend, May 26, 27 and 28th was termed a great success.

The rains that came pouring down at times during the 3-day event may have lessened the anticipated crowd of country music lovers, however, according to Howard Wolfe, president of S.M.A. approximately 15,000 persons passed through the gates to attend the festival.

L. W. Lambert of Olin, North Carolina was named National Banjo Grand Champion. Bluegrass National Banjo Champion was Jim Street of Morgantown, North Carolina; and Howard Wallace from Cincinnati, Ohio was named National Old-Time Banjo picker champion.

The three-day festival of camping, music and family fun was the first of its kind and included banjo in solo, dueling banjos, the banjo as a part of a band, classical, bluegrass and old time music competition.

Entered in the competition were music-lovers from all over the United States.

Council Approves Regulations For Town Ballpark Use

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ghioto, shown above, have recently moved to Appomattox and Mr. Ghioto has assumed his duties as the new Historian at the Appomattox Court House National Historial Park.

Historian Assumes Duties

Mr. Paul Ghioto has recently been named Historian at the Appomattox Court House national Park and has assumed his duties there.

Ghioto replaced Ken Apachnikat who accepted a post at another National Park.

Mr. Ghioto, born in Jacksonville, Florida, was graduated from Jacksonville University in 1972. He served two years active duty in the U.S. Navy.

He worked as a seasonal Ranger in two historical parks in Florida, becoming an employee of the National Park Service in September 1972.

Mr. Ghioto says that since his mother was born and reared in Spotsylvania County, he considers Virginia as his state also. His hobbies include all sports, canoeing and fishing. He has already made plans to take advantage of the Holiday Lake and would enjoy playing ball with one of the local teams.

Of his recent appointment as Appomattox National Park Historian, Mr. Ghioto says "I'm pleased to be selected for this position in Appomattox and both my wife and I look forward to meeting many of the people in the county."

Mrs. Ghioto was educated in the same schools as her husband and plans to continue college studies at Longwood College in Farmville this fall.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ghioto are "history bugs" which appears only natural since he was born on George Washington's birthday and she was born on Abraham Lincoln's.

We welcome these historians to our historic town.

Legion To Give Mower Away

The American Legion Post 104 will hold a drawing on June 8th, at 8:00 p.m., at the Triangle Plaza Shopping Center to give away a 8 horsepower Comet riding lawn mower.

Adopts Parking Angle Resolution

At the regular meeting of the Town Council of Appomattox held last week, council approved the following regulations regarding the use of the town owned ballpark: keyholders and team leaders are responsible to the Appomattox Town Manager, Bill Slagle, for the enforcement of the following regulations regarding the use of this ballpark. 1 - No alcoholic beverage permitted; 2 - Trash will be deposited in receptacles provided; 3 - the area will be policed and bathrooms cleaned prior to departure; 4 - lights will not be turned on during rain; and 5 - profane or abusive language will not be tolerated.

Violations of these regulations will result in the forfeiture of the right to use this facility.

New bleechers for the ballpark have arrived and the park is being used regularly.

Anyone wishing to use these facilities are asked to contact T. E. Conner or Roy Massie.

Mr. Burke Guill, Chairman of the Street Committee, reported to council that 2-hour parking signs have been erected on Church Street and that the new brudge on Route 635 is now open to traffic.

Due to numerous complaints from the citizens of Appomattox, Council elected to eliminate angle parking on Main Street and on Court Street.
